J.P. Morgan Emerging Countries Fund

a Sub-Fund of onemarkets Fund

EMERGING MARKETS CHARACTERISTICS

- GROWTH POTENTIAL: Emerging Markets' growth represents nearly 60 percent of global growth and about 50 percent of global Gross Domestic Product.¹
- YOUNG POPULATION AND A GROWING MIDDLE CLASS: the number of people earning an income continues to grow.²
- INFRASTRUCTURE DEVELOPMENT. In Emerging Countries infrastructure projects support the creation of new jobs and stimulate an inclusive growth.
- ATTRACTIVE VALUATIONS, higher commodity prices and central banks starting their easing cycles offer potential long-term buying opportunities.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY OBJECTIVE

- DIVERSIFICATION³: Investment in Emerging Markets is a way to diversify the portfolio through country, sector and stock selection.
- STRUCTURAL SHIFT: The fund will participate in the structural shift in terms of capital investment and growth opportunities that may be provided by emerging market sectors. Climate change is a fundamental investment theme.
- MARKET SIZE: Emerging markets represent an important asset class that can play a significant role in a diversified portfolio. However, they often are seen as mere tactical exposure and subject to the emotional choices of the financial moment due to their volatility (political, economic and financial). This diversified approach with a medium risk budget allows robust long-term exposure.
- The fund invests (directly and indirectly) at least 80% of its assets in equity securities and equity-related instruments that are tied economically to emerging markets. It uses the MSCI Emerging Markets Index as benchmark.⁴

ABOUT ONEMARKETS FUND

We continuously scan global markets to identify innovative investment opportunities that truly matter. Through onemarkets, we offer a unique and growing range of investment strategies, built on UniCredit Group's expertise and the insights of leading asset managers.

J.P.Morgan
ASSET MANAGEMENT

1. WHAT MAKES THIS FUND UNIQUE?

- The in-depth research and local expertise of J.P. Morgan Asset Management's Emerging Markets and Asia Pacific Equities (EMAP) platform represent the foundation of the fund.
- J.P. Morgan AM investment platform allows investors to invest in more than 1,300 emerging market companies analysed by a team of nearly 100 investment managers and analysts, one of the largest and longest-tenured teams in the industry.

2. HOW DO YOU BUILD THE PORTFOLIO?

- The Fund is intentionally diversified, with 400 – 800 holdings.
- Multi-manager approach combining Global Emerging Markets (GEM), regional and single country managers with core, value and growth investment styles.
- SFDR Classification under article 8 is supported by an investment research process that integrates ESG characteristics.
- A well-diversified portfolio with a medium risk budget and long-term performance target means clients generally can take the long-term view necessary to tap into Emerging Markets structural growth opportunities.

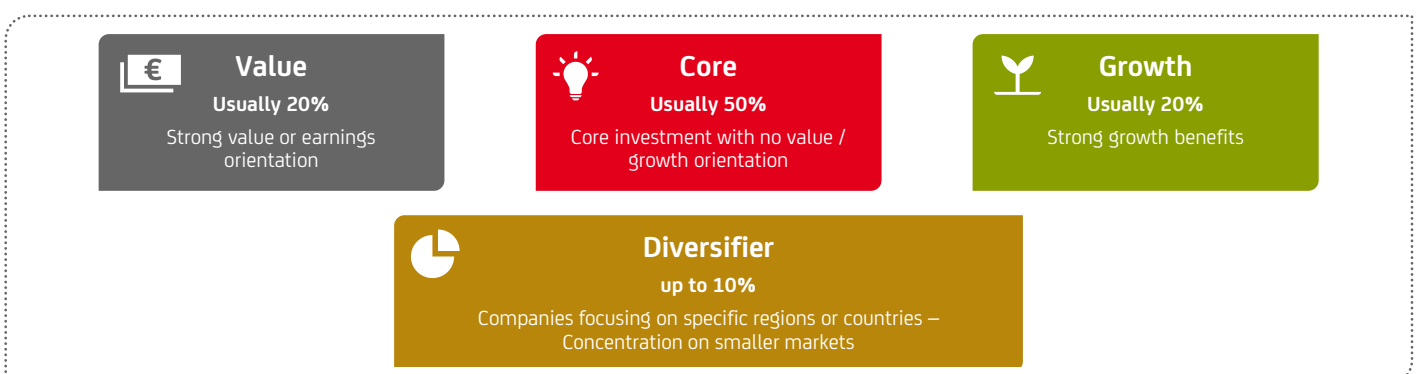

3. HOW DOES THE SELECTION PROCESS WORK?

- The strategy aims to invest only in the strategic ideas in every emerging market from China to India, South Africa to Chile.
- The fund has a medium risk-budget portfolio that helps investors take a structural, long-term investment approach to emerging market equities, which is necessary to benefit from the medium risk / return profile.
- Research and investment process of J.P. Morgan Asset Management's EMAP team has a long track record of investing in emerging markets: they have been investing in Asia for more than 50 years and launched the first strategy dedicated to the Chinese market in 1994.
- The team leverages on a unique combination of sector (47 analysts on the research team), geographic (26 country specialists) and macroeconomic (3 macro and quantitative analysts) experience, which has made the team a reference in the research process. This also made it possible to capitalise on opportunities to open up new markets, such as domestic Chinese A-shares.

4. HOW IS THE INVESTMENT PROCESS?

- The portfolio is the result of a flexible approach to managing exposure to geographies, individual countries, and investment styles, which leverages the best investment ideas in emerging markets. As a consequence, the portfolio is highly diversified.
- The investment strategy is characterised by a medium risk budget, with the aim of minimising unnecessary market risks and monitoring risks at sector and country level. The result is a diversification by investment styles and approaches that allows the fund management team to limit drawdowns, which naturally characterise these markets, and deliver better risk-adjusted returns to investors.

5. PORTFOLIO ALLOCATION

Source: J.P. Morgan Asset Management. onemarkets J.P. Morgan Emerging Countries Fund. The strategy is actively managed. Position is relative to MSCI EM (EMERGING MARKETS) Holdings, sector weights, allocations and leverage, as applicable, are subject to change at the discretion of the Investment Manager without notice. Data as of 31 December 2023.

PROFILE OF POTENTIAL INVESTORS

- An investment in this Sub-Fund is thought for investors who are able to appraise the risks and economic value of the investment.
- The investor must be prepared to accept a significant volatility and potentially high capital losses in order to achieve high potential investment performances.
- The Sub-Fund is intended for investors with a long-term investment horizon.

SFDR – Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation. Information on sustainability-related aspects can be found at <https://www.invest.unicredit.lu/gr/en/fund-platform.html>. The decision of an investor to invest in the Sub-Fund should take into account all the characteristics or objectives of the Funds. This financial product promotes Environmental / Social (E/S) characteristics, but does not have as its objective a sustainable investment.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

CHANCES

- Hedging a position is usually done to protect or insure against the adverse price movement risk of an asset.
- Emerging Markets offer the potential for competitive returns over the long term, across a variety of countries and industries, and represent an important diversifier for investors.
- The fund offers the possibility to participate to equity market growth in the long-term horizon.
- Active management is an approach to investing. In an actively managed portfolio, the portfolio manager selects the investments that make up the portfolio. Active management has benefits, such as the ability to adjust to market conditions, and the opportunity for diversification.
- Companies that lead in terms of sustainable operations and activities might benefit from structural drivers such as legislative and regulatory actions aimed at solving sustainability challenges, and an increase in demand along more sustainable consumption patterns.

RISKS

- To the extent that the Sub-Fund invests a large portion of its assets in a limited number of industries, sectors, or issuers, or within a limited geographical area, it can be riskier than a fund that invests more broadly.
- The Fund may invest in instruments, such as derivatives, that might not fulfil their obligations in the future, exposing the relevant sub-funds to financial losses in the process.
- Emerging markets are less established than developed markets and therefore involve higher risks, particularly market, liquidity, currency risks and interest rate risks, and the risk of higher volatility.
- The prices of the equity may fluctuate significantly as they depend on general economic and political circumstances.
- If the Sub-Fund invests in other UCITS / UCIs, it may incur a second layer of investment fees, which will further erode any investment gains.
- There is a risk that agreements, securities lending, repurchase agreements and derivatives techniques are terminated due, for instance, to bankruptcy. A sub-fund may be required to cover any losses incurred.

- The integration in the investment process of ESG and sustainability factors with wider monitoring and engagement activities, may have an impact on the value of investments and, therefore, on returns.
