

onemarkets PIMCO Global Short Term Bond Fund

a Sub-Fund of onemarkets Fund

“ASSET CLASS” CHARACTERISTICS

- A high-quality and diversified global bond strategy aims to provide potential returns through a combination of income (yield) and capital appreciation, while at the same time potentially preserving capital.
- In a broader portfolio context, high quality, short-medium term bond could help preserve the capital.
- In addition, the focus on low duration bonds can also potentially help mitigate the impact of rising rates hence contributing to limit the risk in a rising rates environment.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY OBJECTIVE

- The Fund seeks to maximise total return, consistent with preservation of capital.
- The Fund is actively managed and aims to measure its performance, only for comparison purposes, against the Bloomberg Global Aggregate 1 – 3 years EUR Hedged Index.
- The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in global fixed-income securities denominated in major world currencies. This will include primarily, but not only, government, government-related and corporate bonds with short-medium term maturity profile. The average portfolio duration normally varies between 0 and 5 years.

ABOUT ONEMARKETS FUND

onemarkets Fund is a unique and growing selection of actively managed funds. For each individual fund, the portfolio is managed either by UniCredit Group companies¹ or by selected experienced asset management companies. The funds' performance is monitored closely by UniCredit experts to ensure consistency in the quality and risk-return profiles of the defined strategies throughout the cycle.

1. WHAT MAKES THIS FUND UNIQUE?

- DURATION AS AN OPPORTUNITY TO GAIN YIELD: The Sub-Fund offers a compelling yield while retaining a low duration profile (short term debt securities) coupled with a focus on high quality, investment grade, liquid bonds.
- POTENTIAL MITIGATION OF RISING RATES IMPACT: The Fund will aim to harvest incremental return beyond savings, money markets, Treasury Bills by investing in short-medium term bond which can help mitigate the impact of rising rates vs. longer maturities bonds.
- FOCUS ON MINIMISING DOWNSIDE RISK: The Fund maintains a short-medium term investment philosophy coupled with an emphasis on minimising downside risk and on capital preservation.

2. HOW DO YOU BUILD THE PORTFOLIO?

- PIMCO's portfolio construction process revolves around the principle of diversification by utilising multiple sources of value add. We are committed to implementing our approach by selecting from a broad universe that includes conventional fixed income sectors as well as newer less traditional sectors (e.g. mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities, inflation-indexed bond, ...)
- Portfolios are constructed such that each investment idea is ranked according to the potential trend (upside and downside). Ultimately, the portfolio is a rank order weighting of what the team believes to be the ideas with the attractive risk / reward potential given the risk / return characteristics of the portfolio.

3. HOW DOES THE SELECTION PROCESS WORK?

- PIMCO evaluates the attractiveness of an investment opportunity based on risk-reward considerations: we look for efficient structural ideas that would allow us to add value without deviating from the risk / return profile of the portfolio.
- Individual bonds that meet PIMCO's target strategies are considered for inclusion in portfolios based on their anticipated performance, given PIMCO's global interest rate and volatility forecasts, their credit worthiness and liquidity.

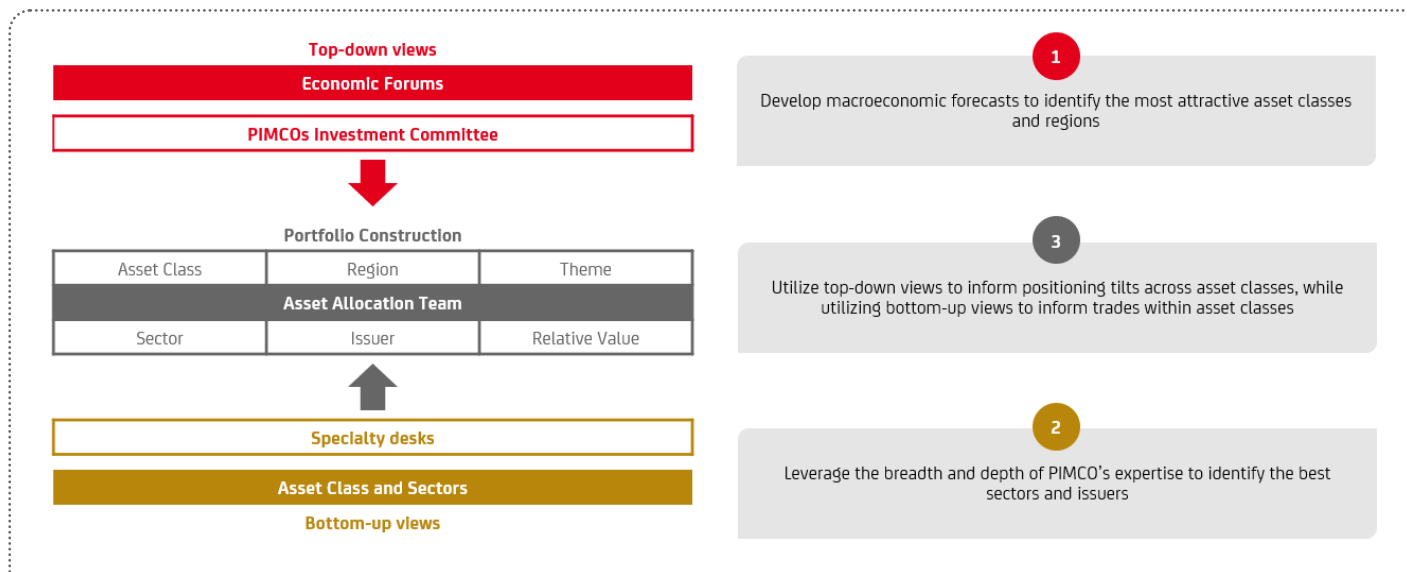

4. HOW IS THE INVESTMENT PROCESS?

- PIMCO seeks to identify favourable secular and cyclical trends, capitalising on relative value opportunities, and avoiding credit events. PIMCO's time-tested investment process includes both top-down (analysis approach that focuses on the macro factors of the economy and bottom-up (investment approach that focuses on analyzing individual instruments and de-emphasises the significance of macroeconomic and market cycles) decision-making.
- PIMCO's top-down investment process is primarily qualitative and it is built on the PIMCO's judgement on interest rate, curve, and country and currency risk. Top-down considerations are mainly driven by PIMCO's Secular and Cyclical forums. Sector specialists are charged with determining relative value within their sectors and play a key role in security selection. An important resource for the sector specialists is PIMCO's staff of highly seasoned analysts who conduct independent security analysis. PIMCO also uses an extensive library of analytical tools to help quantify risks and relative value in different securities.

5. MODEL ALLOCATION

The Fund takes a diversified approach primarily in high quality, investment grade, liquid bonds, (with a minimum average rating of A- for the Sub-Fund's portfolio of Fixed Income Instruments), and easy to resell in the market, with short- to medium-term maturities. This product aims at capitalising on opportunities across the global landscape, including Duration / Yield Curve (if the duration rises also its interest rate risk also rises); Country selection; Sector allocation and Currency strategies.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

- Elevated inflation, tighter monetary policy and slowing growth may lead to more persistent volatility. A flexible and active approach remains key to navigating such an environment.
- The Strategy may be appropriate for investors seeking current income and capital appreciation in a multi-sector bond fund.
- Emerging Markets offer the potential for competitive returns over the long term, across a variety of countries and industries, and represent an important diversifier for investors.
- AMS and MBS can have higher yield than traditional bonds and they have a relatively low correlation with corporate bonds or the stock market.
- High-yield bonds are corporate debt securities that pay higher interest rates than investment-grade bonds. They play a diversification role in the portfolio and in certain economic framework they can help generate positive income.

RISKS

- The value of investments in bonds and other debt securities or derivative instruments may rise or fall sharply as interest rates fluctuate.
- In periods of market instability, the Fund may be required to realise assets at a price that does not reflect their intrinsic value.
- Investments in bonds are subject to the risk that the issuer cannot meet their obligations in terms of paying the interest and / or redeeming the principal on maturity (credit risk).
- To the extent that the Sub-Fund invests a large portion of its assets in a limited number of industries, sectors, or issuers, or within a limited geographical area, it can be riskier than a fund that invests more broadly.
- The Fund may invest in instruments, such as derivatives, that might not fulfil their obligations in the future, exposing the relevant sub-funds to financial losses in the process.
- There is a risk that agreements, securities lending, repurchase agreements and derivatives techniques are terminated due, for instance, to bankruptcy. A sub-fund may be required to cover any losses incurred.
- Emerging markets are less established than developed markets and therefore involve higher risks, particularly market, liquidity, currency risks and interest rate risks, and the risk of higher volatility.
- Mortgage-Backed Securities and Asset-backed securities are usually issued in a number of different classes depending on the riskiness of the underlying assets assessed. The higher the risk contained in the class, the more the asset-backed security pays by way of income.
- Certain high-yielding bonds are very speculative and involve comparatively greater risks than higher quality securities they also have a higher incidence of default and they are less liquid
- The integration in the investment process of ESG and sustainability factors with wider monitoring and engagement activities, may have an impact on the value of investments and, therefore, on returns.
- If the Sub-Fund invests in other UCITS / UCIs, it may incur a second layer of investment fees, which will further erode any investment gains.
